A Fireside Chat WITH FDR

What are the roots of our service at SJC?

The roots of service at SJC are founded in the mission of the Cincinnati Province of the Missionaries of the Precious Blood, who are united by a bond of charity—caring for the poor and marginalized and realizing God's presence among those they serve. Back when the College was young, the C.P.P.S. not only taught, but left on Saturday afternoon to travel to parishes in the region. They would work in the parishes celebrating Mass or whatever needed to be done and then traveled back Sunday evening. The brothers and nuns did everything necessary to keep the College fed and running, and the seminarians were taught service from the time they arrived. Seminarians were assigned to manual labor associated with farm work. Although those we serve may have changed and even our own campus community looks different, our obligation to the common good remains the same, whether it is a young seminarian tending to the farm or a female student hauling firewood at Lake Banet.

President Dennis Riegelneegg

The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others.

—Mahatma Gandhi

Following our Strategic Plan, we are finding ways to build awareness of and incorporate the mission of the C.P.P.S. into our work as we strengthen our Catholic identity. Being “more Catholic” does not mean that we are homogenous or that we serve only Catholics. We as a community are becoming more diverse, but we continue to find ways to faithfully represent Catholic moral and social teaching in all of the work we do for others. We are willing to be flexible and responsive to changing needs—like the C.P.P.S., who work side-by-side with the laity—faculty, staff, and students.

“ For I was hungry and you gave me food,
I was thirsty and you gave me drink,
naked and you clothed me,
ill and you cared for me
whatever you did for one of these least brothers of mine, you did for me.
—Matthew 25:35-36, 40 ”

How does SJC fulfill its mission through service?

As an institution of higher education, service to students is our top priority, as it always has been. However, we also strive to serve the common good, and preparing students to respond effectively to the challenges of such a social mission requires a special kind of curriculum. We provide them with the resources they need and give them specialized training. But how do we build their capacity for social mission? How should we serve those who serve others? We teach students to collaborate with others who share the same goals, but teaching is not the whole story. Although service may often be a community activity, it stems from a strong sense of personal responsibility. It requires a certain level of maturity to develop the inner understanding that enables one to give selflessly, to live a life outwardly focused. In order to fulfill our role as an institution that serves students, we lead by example--and this is where our Catholic identity comes in. Just as we are fiscally responsible, we are equally socially responsible with the gifts with which we have been entrusted. We advocate for social justice and empower students to do the same. We demonstrate for them how to tend to human needs, regardless of religious beliefs.

What does service look like at SJC?

In this issue of Contact, we provide a snapshot of what it means for SJC to “do service.” Just as we and those we serve have changed over the years, service looks a bit different now than it did 100, 50, or even 20 years ago. What hasn’t changed is that students, staff, alumni, and faculty find many opportunities at SJC that allow them to share themselves with those in need, remembering that the most vulnerable members of our community may walk among us.

Service comes in many forms: ministry, military service, community outreach, or nonprofit work. It is manifested in many different ways at SJC. Whether a donor or Trustee, volunteer in a soup kitchen, lay or ordained minister, staff member helping on Beautification Day, alumna working with special needs children, or student helping to build a home for a needy family, the SJC community knows what it means to be “Involved For Life.”

What Do You Want to Know?

DEDICATION: McKim Visits Puma Educators

Garrison '11 and McKim '72

McKim '72 and Headley '11

Kennedy '11 and McKim '72

When Assistant Professor of Education Dr. Jerry McKim '72 learned he'd be going to Arizona, he knew he had to get in touch with three of his former students. Maureen Kennedy '11, Rosie Headley '11, and Josh Garrison '11 are elementary school teachers in the Phoenix area. McKim was the advisor for the three graduates during their senior year student teaching, and he did not want to pass up the opportunity to visit them.

"I was traveling to Tuscon with my wife, Georgia '89," said McKim. "Because I worked very closely with these three graduates, Georgia and I decided to fly into Phoenix first."

McKim made it a point to visit not only his former students, but his close friends. It's that type of bond that McKim feels distinguishes SJC's Education Department from others.

"There's something special about the professors at SJC. It's the close, personal relationships we develop with our students. That's just as much a testament to the quality and character of the professors as it is to the determination, attitude, and openness of our students. We go to great ends to serve our students and expose them to the most contemporary training in our field, and Josh, Rosie, and Maureen are perfect examples of what an SJC education can do for you."

Garrison teaches at Mountain Vista Middle School in Queen Creek. He teaches sixth, seventh, and eighth grade in a self-contained emotional disability classroom. Although he's hit some rough patches, he loves every minute of his time at the school. "Dr. McKim told Maureen, Rosie and me that he'd visit us eventually, and when I got the call from him saying he'd be coming to see us, I was very excited. He was one of the best professors I had at SJC and helped shape me into who I am today."

Although school hadn't started yet, McKim visited all three of the alumni in their classrooms.

"Their professional preparation and enthusiasm were complimented by the school administrators who were in our presence," said McKim. "Josh, Maureen, and Rosie all indicated to me that SJC thoroughly prepared them for their initial teaching positions."

It was how quickly the three were able to land teaching positions that truly shows how well SJC readied them for the future. Headley landed a position at HoHoKam Middle School in Coolidge after attending a job fair her senior year, where she was offered a job on the spot. As a special education teacher, Headley teaches sixth- and seventh-grade language arts and math. She is also the head coach of the varsity girls' soccer team at Coolidge High School following her playing career at SJC. Headley was also thrilled to have the McKims visit.

"Dr. McKim played a significant role in getting me to where I am today, and I will always be grateful for that."

Headley realizes how SJC has given her an edge. She is already developing her own language arts curriculum and has gained the attention and respect of her coworkers.

"My coworkers thought I was much older. I think it was due to how I present myself and am able to articulate and communicate my thoughts, all qualities I learned at SJC. I truly believe the Core Program has a tremendous impact on my development."

Maureen Kennedy is also teaching in Coolidge at West Elementary School. She teaches special education courses for grades K-5. Kennedy loves her job teaching and serving as Headley's assistant soccer coach at Coolidge High School. "It was great to see a familiar face from SJC and have him see my first, very own classroom," said Kennedy. He and the rest of SJC's Education Division prepared me with the resources I need to relate to my students and make their learning more interactive."

In his visit, Dr. McKim showed how professors can often become lifelong friends. Not only do the students see it, but their employers do as well.

A UNITED ENDEAVOR

The Higher Learning Commission (HLC) Primer

Every 10 years we are up for re-accreditation by The Higher Learning Commission (HLC). The HLC will visit SJC February 13-15, 2012 to make a recommendation on reaffirmation of the College's accreditation. The HLC will speak to all segments on campus. These interviews are designed to assess how well we're fulfilling our educational mission.

To prepare for this visit, the College conducted a self-study, led by Dr. John Nichols, who devoted a great deal of time, energy, and effort to this significant undertaking. The study assessed how well we're meeting core components of our mission and the strengths and weaknesses that we can identify for ourselves. The idea behind the self-study is to have "no surprises" during the HLC visit.

In 2010-11, five different work groups were formed, with representatives from all areas of campus. There are five criteria upon which we are accredited. Upon which we are accredited, such as Mission & Integrity, Teaching & Learning, and Service. Each group was charged with gathering data for one of the criteria, with each of the criteria forming a chapter of a narrative document. This document underwent a thorough group editing process. When the chapters became a fairly full draft, they were sent to the HLC Steering Committee. The final document was posted online as a .pdf.

At the end of their visit, the HLC will make some preliminary observations. A full report will follow. The results will then be announced to the SJC community.

College Invites Public Comments for Upcoming Accreditation Visit

Saint Joseph's College will undergo a comprehensive evaluation visit February 13-15, 2012, by a team representing The Higher Learning Commission (HLC) of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. Saint Joseph's College has been accredited by the Commission since 1950. Its accreditation is at the Master's degree level and includes a degree site at one other location, Lafayette, within the state.

The Higher Learning Commission is one of six accrediting agencies in the United States that provide institutional accreditation on a regional basis. Institutional accreditation evaluates an entire institution and accredits it as a whole. Other agencies provide accreditation for specific programs. Accreditation is voluntary. The Commission accredits approximately 1,100 institutions of higher education in a nineteen-state region. The Commission is recognized by the U.S. Department of Education.

For the past year and a half, Saint Joseph's College has been engaged in a process of self-study, addressing the Commission's requirements and criteria for accreditation. The evaluation team will visit the institution to gather evidence that the self-study is thorough and accurate. The team will recommend to the Commission a continuing status for the College; following a review process, the Commission itself will take the final action.

The public is invited to submit comments regarding the College:

Public Comment on Saint Joseph's College
The Higher Learning Commission
230 South LaSalle Street, Suite 7-500
Chicago, IL 60604

Comments must address substantive matters related to the quality of the institution or its academic programs. Written, signed comments must be received by January 13, 2012. The Commission cannot guarantee that comments received after the due date will be considered. Comments should include the name, address, and telephone number of the person providing the comments. Comments will not be treated as confidential.

Note: Individuals with a specific dispute or grievance with the institution should request the separate Policy on Complaints document from the Commission Office. The Higher Learning Commission cannot settle disputes between institutions and individuals. Complaints will not be considered third party comment.

“Emergency”

Allen Borck '80 first became aware of Saint Joseph's College through his parish priest. Being from a small northwest town in Ohio, he knew a large university was not for him. Having chosen to attend SJC, he was originally a Pre-Med major before his plans took a detour, and he refocused his course of study to Education at the junior high/high school level: “I started in the Pre-Med program. This was before I met Dr. John Nichols, my first semester Core 1 instructor, and received a double D. Yes, I did deserve them. This eliminated medical school from my future; I also received a C from Dr. Duvall Jones in Biology, and that started me down the path to my current career.”

When he arrived at SJC, athletic training was in its infancy at Division II and Division III schools and even more rare at the high school level. An athletic trainer in high school, Borck continued this path throughout his career at SJC.

Borck worked on his National Certification as an athletic trainer through the apprenticeship program under Brad Smith, A.T.C.: “I believe I was the first student in Saint Joseph's College history to receive National Certification as an athletic trainer under the apprenticeship program.” As part of the apprenticeship, certification was required in some type of advanced first aid. He decided to become an EMT-B, so that, he explains, “I could be like Johnny and Roy on the 70s TV show ‘Emergency’ (I believe I have now really dated myself).”

During his years at SJC, his Friday nights as an athletic trainer were spent on the sidelines of Kankakee Valley High School football games; after graduation, he did the same at Rensselaer Central High School. He secured a teaching position in a federally funded program for disadvantaged high school youth that lasted for about six months until it was eliminated when President Reagan was elected. Borck says, “Teachers were facing lay offs and job eliminations long before today. I fell back on my second career as an EMT-B and continued to volunteer as athletic trainer at the local high school, still searching for a teaching position.”

In 1984, Borck decided that he was probably not going to find a full-time teaching position, a decision that led him to enroll in St. Elizabeth Paramedic Training Program at a time when the paramedic industry was still in its infancy. Borck graduated in July 1985 and was immediately hired by St. Elizabeth Hospital to work for their 911 EMS service. Borck recalls, “I was living my dream. I was a paramedic helping people. I still lived in Rensselaer and worked for the local funeral home-based ambulance service. I also assisted in bringing advanced life support to rural EMS in Rensselaer.”

Fulfilling his strong desire to educate, Borck began teaching in the Paramedic Program part time in 1989 while still working full-time as a paramedic for St. Elizabeth Hospital. In 2002, he became the full-time EMS Education Coordinator for St. Elizabeth Health.

No longer in its infancy, pre-hospital EMS was being reevaluated at the national level. The US government sought a national standard instead of having various state standards. To this point, no paramedic program was required to be nationally accredited. In 2006, the EMS agenda for the future was developed, and Indiana was one of the states that then required national accreditation for all paramedic training programs. One of the requirements of accreditation was the ability of the institution to grant college credits, not necessarily a degree.

I have learned many things in my CAREER.

You never stop LEARNING.

- ALLEN BORCK '80 (B.S. in Physical Education and Health, Minor: Biology, Education. Hometown: Delta, Ohio. He may be reached at aborck@saintjoe.edu.)

The world of EMS has evolved in ways that couldn't have been imagined at its conception. Thanks to the multitude of classroom opportunities that Saint Joseph's College is offering Paramedics in-training, we will be equipped with the knowledge and skills required of this profession and the liberal education that is so important in today's society.

BECOMES REALITY TV

Since Franciscan St. Elizabeth Health does not grant college credits and the program was held in Tippecanoe County, Borck began to explore other local options. He knew the St. Elizabeth School of Nursing had an arrangement with Saint Joseph's College to grant a BSN degree, so he began to explore this as an option. Would the College have an interest in the development of an associate's degree program off campus?

Uncovering the answer to that question generated many conversations, emails and phone calls in the summer of 2008 with, Borck says, "None other than Dr. John Nichols, the professor who, 32 years earlier, had given me a double D in Core 1 and started me on my career path that eventually led to instructing paramedic students. It amazes me how things seem to come full circle."

They spent more than a year looking at all the options and possibilities. Borck recalls they decided that development of an associate's degree in Paramedic Science was the best option, especially with the progression of EMS as a profession: "No better partnership than with my alma mater—Saint Joseph's College—and my long-time employer, Franciscan St. Elizabeth Health."

The Paramedic Training Program consists of mostly non-traditional students. There are single parents, married students with and without children, students who already have bachelor's degrees, up to and including students with master's degrees looking for a more fulfilling purpose in life. Most students come from Tippecanoe and surrounding counties, but anyone certified by the state of Indiana as an EMT-B is eligible for the Program.

Like many of his students in the Paramedic Program, Borck is a lifelong learner—he is currently enrolled in a M.Ed. program. Looking at how the Paramedic Program has evolved, Borck reflects on his own evolution—the detour that his career took from what he planned when he started out 32 years ago. "I wondered on several occasions why I had chosen Saint Joseph's College. Would I ever use my degree? Why did I get Dr. Nichols for Core 1?" The answers to these questions are revealed in Borck's philosophy about life. "I understand and accept God's plan for my life. Is it the path I chose? Not exactly, but I have used my education and experiences gained at Saint Joseph's throughout my life. Life is a journey—let it happen."

ENCORE!

The charitable IRA legislation is back for a repeat performance—don't miss this opportunity to make tax-free gifts from your IRA.

The Government is Providing You With an Outstanding Way to Help SJC

If you're looking for the most tax-effective gift to make to SJC, Congress has extended a law that allows individuals 70 ½ or older to make tax-free gifts now to qualified charitable organizations using funds transferred directly from their IRAs. You can transfer any amount up to $100,000 per individual until December 31, 2011.

Music to Your Ears

- The transfer counts toward your minimum required distribution as long as you have not yet received your distribution for the year.
- The transfer generates neither taxable income nor a tax deduction, so you will benefit even if you do not itemize your tax deductions.
- You can witness the difference your philanthropic dollars make to the College.

We Can Help

Don't let this tax-wise opportunity pass you by. If you have a question, need more information, or would like to make a gift, please contact Maureen Egan, Ph.D. '90. We look forward to hearing from you.

CorWIN for

Kathi Corwin '12

10 At Saint Joseph's College, students play an active role in shaping their college experience. They join clubs, play sports, and make friendships that will last a lifetime. These are personal accomplishments, and they will always be remembered by those who achieved them. One student has made an impact on campus that can be shared by the entire SJC community, a restoration process that has brought people together in a setting that is beautiful and nostalgic. Kathi Corwin '12, a History major from Valparaiso, Ind., made Lake Banet her personal project for the summer of 2011, and she resurrected a campus resource in need of some tender loving care.

Corwin spent her last two summers working for Mark Brouwer '04, SJC's former Director of Event Services and current Director of Development. The office is in charge of coordinating logistics for on-campus events and making sure the campus facilities are able to support them. It was clear to Brouwer and Corwin that one campus facility could stand out as a jewel on SJC's property with some investment of resources. It was decided that Corwin would serve as the Assistant Lake Manager and try to revive it as a popular attraction and aesthetically pleasing setting. It would have been difficult for anyone to imagine the unbelievable turnaround Lake Banet made in just three months, and Corwin is one of the biggest reasons for its turnaround.

"Going back to the summer of 2010, I was quite involved with Lake Banet and the events that were held there," said Corwin. "This summer, I expressed interest in lake management and playing a more active role, and Mark appointed me to the position."

Although she was ready to tackle the beautification project, it was difficult to figure out where to start. Because she and Brouwer had never managed a lake before, much of the summer was spent figuring out the best way to go about the beautification process. There hadn't been many resources allocated to Lake Banet in quite some time. The gardens were overgrown, the guardhouse needed organizing, and some of the tools needed replacing. Cleaning up the gardens proved to be very time consuming and required a lot of labor, including picking weeds and trimming the nearby trees. The biggest project turned out to be the new picnic tables purchased.

"We purchased 25 new picnic tables from Stark Truss Company, Inc. and put them together with the help of the Office of Institutional Advancement and Marketing. We then proceeded to stain all the tables before they were put to use. The whole process took about a month of daily work."

One upgrade whose completion Corwin is looking forward to is the improved electrical capacity at the Lake. This will allow bands to play there and usher in many more possibilities for how the space can be utilized. It's another step towards Corwin's goal to increase its visibility while maintaining the surrounding environment and encouraging people to visit the Lake and use it for events.

Lake Banet

If it wasn't for everyone pitching in and helping, I could never have gotten as much work done as I did this summer. But the work isn't done yet. There can always be something done to improve Lake Banet.

“I want people to know that it's out there and they can utilize the space for their needs. Also, I would like people to be aware of everyone who has helped improve the Lake. The space is really beautiful and can offer a lot of possibilities for fun and memorable events.”

Many people have given their time to help improve the space. Corwin has donated various tools and resources such as the mulch for the gardens, the edging around five of the smaller trees, and stain for the picnic tables. She made a pledge to donate $1,000 worth of equipment in an effort to make herself a Fellow. The young alumni discount requires a donation of $1,000 over a five year period. Corwin is already halfway to making her mark. With all the time, tools, and energy Corwin has expended at Lake Banet, people on campus and off have taken notice.

“Years ago, my wife and three kids would spend almost every Saturday and Sunday swimming at Lake Banet,” said Steve Roberts, SJC Fellow and owner of Charlie Roberts Auto Center in Rensselaer. “The kids enjoyed it, and we always had a great time. We'd just sit, relax, and read a book and watch our kids grow up. This summer, while fishing with my good friend Mike Altman, I noticed the new additions and changes, and it reminded me of how great Lake Banet is for unwinding and enjoying the outdoors. This summer, I witnessed the most beautiful sunsets at Lake Banet.”

SJC Campus Minister Br. Tim Hemm, C.P.P.S. '70 spends a lot of time at Lake Banet, where he keeps a trailer. He has been delighted with the improvements made at the Lake. Early in the school year, Campus Ministry held Chili at the Lake, where students could come enjoy a good meal in the outdoors. Br. Tim complimented the picnic benches and fire pits and expressed gratitude for the facelift given to the Lake.

“The general atmosphere at Lake Banet is great, and the group that came to Chili at the Lake had a wonderful time,” said Br. Tim. We comfortably held a group of 70 people there, and it seemed every one of them enjoyed their time there.”

The three new fire pits will make for excellent nighttime entertainment for years to come, and the addition of a boat ramp has made for easy access to the water for boaters. Combined with the enlarged swimming area and new buoys, every aspect of the Lake's offerings has been addressed in some way.

“I am blown away by all of the work that has been done out there. The Event Services Office, which includes all the lifeguards, together with the Office of Institutional Advancement and Marketing, got so much accomplished. If it wasn't for everyone pitching in and helping, I could never have gotten as much work done as I did this summer. But the work isn't done yet. There can always be something done to improve Lake Banet,” said Corwin.

As Corwin finishes up her senior year, it's a certainty that Lake Banet will do nothing but improve.

HANDS OF Hope

In thinking about what it means to be a member of the Saint Joseph's College community, one word tends to repeat itself—service. SJC has long held the belief that service to those in need is essential to building loving relationships with oneself, with God, and with others. Saint Joseph's College Missionary Outreach (SJCMO) has found ways to provide assistance to all parts of the world, from as close as Rensselaer to as far as Tanzania, Africa. In Fr. Leonard Kostka, C.PPS. '35 and SJC Professor Emeritus of History and Philosophy Dr. H. Don Kreilkamp, the College has two extraordinary men who have given of themselves to those in desperate need of hope and love.

SJCMO was started over a decade ago by Fr. Jim Froelich, C.PPS. '51. Fr. Froelich was a Missionary from SJC who landed in Africa to help start a seminary. While in Africa, however, he passed away in 1998 of complications and fatigue from his missionary work with the Tanzanians. He was the first Missionary from the C.PPS. to pass away in Africa, and SJCMO holds an annual event to keep his memory and project alive—assisting with the work he helped begin at Saint Gaspar's College, a major seminary for the Missionaries of the Precious Blood, in Morogoro, Tanzania. The C.PPS. have maintained a strong presence in Tanzania, as have many other members of the SJC community. SJC Adjunct Faculty of Foreign Languages Alan McFarland, a native of Tanzania, has served as Chairman of SJCMO for the past eight years.

Kreilkamp taught Philosophy for four years at Jordan University College in Morogoro. He was instrumental in the formation of the institution, which had a total enrollment of 25 students when he began teaching. The institution now has close to 1,300 undergraduate students, as well as others working towards their master's and doctoral degrees.

Kreilkamp and his wife, Mary Ellen '75, sacrificed much in their work in Tanzania through SJCMO, but they have no regrets of the time they spent there. After teaching in Africa, Kreilkamp was unable to return because of health reasons. Instead of leaving Morogoro in the rearview mirror, Kreilkamp set to work carrying out the mission of Christ by serving those in need closer to home. He leads a weekly Bible study at Jasper County Community Corrections and taught various classes in the Ecclesial Lay Ministry program at SJC with the Diocese of Lafayette-in-Indiana.

One of Kreilkamp's accomplishments he is most proud of is his book

Come, Lord Jesus! which takes an optimistic approach to John's Book of Revelation. He is currently working on a new book, which he hopes to have published by Salvatorium Publishing House of Jordan University College. Salvatorium published Come, Lord Jesus!

Saint Joseph's College Missionary Outreach continues to find ways to support the needy in Africa, especially those in the Village of Hope. Founded by the Adorers of the Blood of Christ as a response to the area's AIDS epidemic, the Village of Hope is located in the center of one of the poorest regions of Tanzania. The Village houses 140 children who have AIDS and are undergoing antiretroviral therapy. None of the children have biological family support. Instead, they are living in one of the Village's family dwellings with adoptive parents and six to eight other children. The Village also provides assistance to HIV positive children and their families who live nearby.

In March 2010, the group held a benefit concert featuring performances by SJC Assistant Professor of Economics Dr. John Kennedy and Krishanna Baker '12 of Delphi, Ind. and Ethan Avina '12 of Lyons, Ohio. There was also a performance by Cam's Trio, a threesome consisting of Cameron Cullers '11 of Detroit, Mich., junior Kelso Daning '13 of Elkhart, Ind., and Will Orchard, a Rensselaer resident. The concert generated just under $650 for the Village of Hope. Sodexo gave students the opportunity to donate a meal resulting in an $805 contribution to the Village of Hope.

"Our goal is to raise awareness and find the means to support people in need," said James Bertucci '12, a member of SJC MO. "There are so many people struggling in the world, but we can help by doing the little things that make a difference."

Saint Joseph's College has always fostered the idea of service to those in need. SJC MO has carried through with the belief that we are all servants of God, and as His servants, we are to give what we can to further the mission of SJC and the C.P.P.S. It's this call to service that has distinguished the SJC community as one that is always finding ways to better society, whether in Jasper County or Tanzania.

REMEMBERING 9/11

To honor those who lost their lives on September 11, 2001, Saint Joseph's College held a memorial service where prayers and reflections were shared. The night before the anniversary, members of the SJC community gathered to place mini American flags in the lawn around Halleck Student Center to represent the number of people who died in the attacks.

The theme of the service was reconciliation, which was conveyed in a speech by SJC President Dr. F. Dennis Riegelnegg. The service also featured prayers, the National Anthem, a trumpeter for taps, and a time for silence. Buz Koehler, Chief of the Rensselaer Fire Department, spoke of the courage the emergency responders displayed during the attacks, risking their lives to save others.

"We knew that the attacks of 9/11 directly affected many people and indirectly affected all of us," senior History major James Bertucci '12 of Chicago, Ill. said. "This anniversary allows the SJC community to be in solidarity with the nation and work towards remembrance and reconciliation."

Adam Ruggles '12

THANK YOU We recognize the Pumas who have served their country and also those who fell in the line of duty: World War II, Korean War, Vietnam, the Persian Gulf, Iraq, Afghanistan, the 9/11 attacks, or in the line of duty as a police officer, firefighter or EMT/paramedic. We honor those who have given their "last full measure."

LEGACY Spotlight

MARYKATE HRESIL '15

I love SJC. I have already made so many friends and memories and am excited about getting involved in things. I'm really looking forward to Little 500. I've heard fantastic things about it and never got to come down for it because of school and sports.

I chose SJC because I loved the campus and it felt right going to a place where so much of my family had gone. I am choosing Political Science and English as my majors because I really enjoy the classes and think they will prepare me for law school adequately. The professors are brilliant!

My mom never pushed SJC on me, but I knew it would make her happy if I went to a place where she had made so many fantastic memories and friends. SJC is an awesome campus and I couldn't be happier being here!

KELLY BARRETT HRESIL '85

My experience at SJC was great because it is such a small college. It gives you a one-on-one relationship with your professors. Also, everyone knew everyone and it was easy to make friends that way.

I always told my daughters stories about SJC but never thought that either of them would come here, let alone both. It was always something I had hoped for but never would force on them.

I am excited about the memories that MaryKate is going to make and hope she has just as much fun and makes life-long friendships as I did. Also, I hope she takes the mentality that SJC promotes with her into her future.

HOMECOMING MARKS 50TH ANNIVERSARY FOR ALUMNUS ~ John Baumann '61 celebrated his 50th reunion at Homecoming and was a class agent. Congratulations to John for doing a great job of organizing the Class of 1961 to return to campus.

Benny Hale of the Wagon Wheel

MEMORIES FROM THE WAGON WHEEL ~ As Homecoming 2011 approached, the question was posed to alumni—what is your favorite memory of the Wagon Wheel? Here's what you had to say.

Brock Heinz '01: For my brother's bachelor party, I had hoped to order 50 Wagonmasters from Benny. At the time, they were about three bucks a piece, and I figured he'd cut me a deal because I was ordering in bulk. When I asked how much it would be, he told me more than $150 because it was a pain for him to make so many.

Kim Owsley Bozek '82: Walking through thigh-high snow (classes were canceled) to go to Benny's and have a beer and burger, and of course play the bowling machine. Some people actually met people there 30 years ago, and are still happily married!

Mark Behnke '80: In 2001, my wife and I went to a meeting at Saint Joseph's College, and as we were leaving we stopped to have a Wagonmaster at the Wagon Wheel. Our daughter was just four months old. Being that we're from Michigan, I didn't realize children were not allowed in bars in Indiana. Anyway, Benny literally chased us out of the bar and explained to us that he'd be in big trouble if he got caught with a baby in his establishment. My wife waited in the car while I ordered, and we consumed the best burgers ever and laughed about being run out of the Wagon Wheel.

SERVICE THEN & NOW

REV. WILLIAM STANG, C.P.P.S. '72 GRADUATED. Fr. Stang has served in the military since 1986, rising to the rank of colonel and responsible for all of the National Guard chaplains, chaplain candidates, and chaplain assistants in Indiana. Over the years, he has been deployed to Bosnia, Kosovo, Iraq, and Hurricane Katrina relief. On October 27, Fr. Stang officially retired from the military after 25 years of faithful service.

SEMINARIANS PROVIDED SERVICE TO THE COLLEGE

ALLEN BORCK '80 GRADUATED. "I resided in Gallagher Hall living on the second floor. I was one of the founding members of the Gallagher Charitable Society at the time we did not have a name for it. We raised money to benefit MDA and then to throw a Christmas party for the needy children in Jasper County at Christmas time. It was not just Gallagher Hall that was involved. Though we started the ball rolling, it was a campus-wide effort to do something for the community."

SIDEWALK BUILDERS

GALLAGHER CHARITABLE SOCIETY BEGINNINGS. The earliest written record of the seeds of the Gallagher Charitable Society was in an issue of the SJC student newspaper, Stuff. Gallagher students Frank Marinaro '78, Kevin Miller '81, Jim Pronteau '80, Mike Fiebelkorn '80, and Chris Bott '81 watched the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy telethon and conceived of a softball marathon. Teams from the College played for 59 innings and raised $300 for the telethon.

RAY HALL '71 GRADUATED. "I majored in Geology. My first meeting with the man who was to become my mentor for life was in front of East Seifert Hall. He was one of my primary professors in my major. Students always called Mike Davis 'Mr. D.' Since graduating from SJC, I have never used the word 'Mr.' in addressing Mike Davis. This is my way of acknowledging the profound effect that he and his wife Helena and family have had on my life. SJC students have remarkably close relationships with faculty members. Hopefully, when students move forward in life, they will understand how lucky they were to have forged those relationships. Yes, indeed, cornfields can be a great place to learn about life." Hall is pictured above with his family.

C.P.P.S. MISSION STATEMENT RELEVANT TO SJC'S STRATEGIC PLAN:
"We are called to participate in the ongoing renewal of the Church and the realization of the presence of God among ourselves and those we serve."

SJC STUDENTS' FIRST TRIP FOR HABITAT FOR HUMANITY WAS TO COAHOMA, MISSISSIPPI. Since then, SJC students have traveled to different Habitat affiliates for Collegiate Challenge and Spring Break; disaster areas nationwide; and to Tanzania, Chile, Guatemala, and Macedonia. Professor Fred Berger (pictured above (R), receiving from former SJC President Ernie Mills an award by the Rocky Mount Area Habitat for Humanity and the citizens of Rocky Mount, NC, for his contributions to Rocky Mount) has provided longtime service to SJC, including overseeing the Habitat program.

JASPER COUNTY HABITAT FOR HUMANITY LOCAL AFFILIATE WAS INCORPORATED, founded by SJC staff, students, and community. Work with the affiliate has helped to bring students of the College and members of Jasper County together in efforts to eliminate poverty housing.

QUEST FARM OPENED. When a group of retired teachers teaching a special needs Sunday school class at Trinity Baptist Church in Lexington, KY, opened a home for the students to live in, Quest Farm was born. Now, there are several homes; each includes a family that lives with the residents and provides care for them. "My husband [Roger Spitler '09] and I are the family that live in the women's house," said Abigail Edwards Spitler '09, Quest Farm residential supervisor team lead. "I oversee the residential program. I also take care of the six women we live with, helping them to achieve their personal goals, doing laundry, and cooking three meals a day."

"Our future plans are to keep working at Quest Farm, helping it to grow and thrive. SJC prepared me for this type of work by really challenging me to think outside of the box. The Core Program really helped me to develop a sense of professionalism and creativity that I would not have attained from a typical college education. My favorite professor was Dr. Pulver, as he really pushed me in Core 1 to think of the other side of every opinion before coming up with my own stance."

"Roger began studying at Asbury Theological Seminary in 2009 following graduation from SJC. Presently, he is working toward a master's in Divinity. He will pursue a career in full-time pastoral ministry. One of the most helpful things for Roger from SJC was the course load that he took as part of his Philosophy/Religion degree. Despite being a Protestant, Roger was introduced to a lot of Catholic thinking, theologians, and issues regarding church. This knowledge base has helped Roger view things in a very interdenominational way." www.questfarm.org

MEGAN KOLACZYK '98 served two years with Elkhart EnviroCorps, an AmeriCorps Indiana Program; she served eight years as program coordinator for the same organization. Other Pumas in AmeriCorps: Jennifer Sherburn Eckert '03, Nick Schafer '03, Michael Wallach '04, Kenny Shumard '04, Lisa Grilliot Brooks '04, Elizabeth Gall '06, and Janet Herr '08.

LUKE HANSEN, S.J. '04 GRADUATES. After graduating, Hansen served in the Jesuit Volunteer Corps, entered the Jesuit religious community, and now coordinates the Red Cloud Volunteer Program on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in South Dakota. "We have 20 full-time volunteers who work with us for 1-3 years or more." Diane Sawyer has made several visits to the reservation, culminating in ABC's 20/20 episode, "Hidden America: Children of the Plains," which aired on October 14 (<http://abcn.ws/nMnYCN>).

KRIS KROUSE '02 RECEIVES OUTSTANDING PUBLIC SERVICE AWARD from the Indiana Conference of Higher Education. Krouse is currently the Executive Director for Shirley Heinze Land Trust in Michigan City, IN, managing a not-for-profit in which he dedicated the largest property as a state nature preserve and increased its size by 75%. He is an environmental scientist by training. Among the many positions he holds on professional advisory boards, councils, committees, and programs concerning land conservation and protection, quality of life, and environmental management, he was appointed by Gov. Daniels to be a member of the Invasive Species Council of Indiana last year. Krouse received the Indiana Governor's Award for Tomorrow's Leaders in 2007; was profiled in Chicago Wilderness and Saving Land magazines in 2009 and 2008, respectively; and became a Rotary Paul Harris Fellow in 2009. Krouse (pictured left) still finds time to work with Michigan City High School students as a STRIVE high school mentor and Junior Achievement teacher. Krouse says "SJC definitely helped me understand service and it continues to be a part of my daily life."

STUDENTS FROM all of the dorms are involved in the Gallagher Charitable Society. The name now honors both the founding dorm and Bishop Gallagher, former Bishop of our diocese. Attendance at the Christmas event has grown—with greater participation from the College community. The SJC baseball team plays a leadership role in the event. The team is building a tradition of service as the eight famous reindeer and Rudolph. Students, players, and coaches work as Santa's elves with assistance from the Education Club.

MAKE A CHOICE CLUB. A common project for MAC is roadside clean-ups, a wonderful opportunity to help our environment. MAC allows students to choose what they want to do in their free time.

ENVIRONMENTAL CLUB. The club aims to educate students, faculty, and staff on what sustainability really is. Their definition: "Meeting the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs." This club is not only having an impact on the students who join the club, but also on SJC and surrounding community. Katie Wright '12 (pictured above) says, "SJC is such a close-knit community, I think that we can really bring together our best resources in order to make our campus more sustainable."

CARE CENTER. The RA staff has been going to the Care Center for the past two years during their summer training, right before the freshmen arrive on campus. New friends are made by playing bingo, cleaning up the dining room, playing Wii bowling, singing karaoke, attending ice cream socials, and other fun for both RAs and Care Center residents alike.

Harvest Fest SERVES UP

As part of a sustainability effort to take advantage of fresh, locally grown food, Saint Joseph's College freshmen prepared a weekly meal with fresh produce grown in the Learning Garden, a small plot of land just west of Sparling Ave. next to Joseph L. Minielli Memorial Soccer Field. The project was dubbed Harvest Fest 2011.

The garden was planted and tended to through the summer by Associate Professor of Education Dr. Lana Zimmer with the help of two interns, junior Biology majors Sarah Todd and Amanda Rousseau. Zimmer met with a different group of freshmen every week at the garden to explain how to grow a garden and raise different vegetables. She also assisted them in harvesting some of the vegetables that were used in the weekly meals. Whereas Zimmer was in charge of planting, tending, and harvesting, Assistant Professor of Computer Science Brian Capouch served as head chef for the meals.

"There are numerous goals our students accomplished with this project," said Capouch. "Sustainability was obviously the main lesson, but they also learned about gardening, new cooking techniques, and working with the community and local farmers. It also served as a great bonding experience for the students."

"Adjusting to college involves making conscious decisions and trying new things, and students taking part in an activity like Harvest Fest is a good risk,” said Dean of Freshmen and Assistant Professor of Communication and Theatre Arts Heidi Rahe. “I’m very thankful for Brian Capouch and Lana Zimmer for spearheading this wonderful project.”

Besides using the food they grew, the students also utilized flour from historic Bonneyville Mill in Elkhart, Ind., and chickens that were raised locally. To ensure nothing went to waste, a compost pile was formed with any unused food. Each meal consisted of homemade bread prepared by Professor of Education Dr. Jennifer Barce with the help of students, and a soup or salad course, a main course, and dessert. Some of the dishes served included: peach soup, pesto alla Genovese, pizza, New York cheesecake, chicken creole pasta, and baked macaroni ‘n’ cheese.

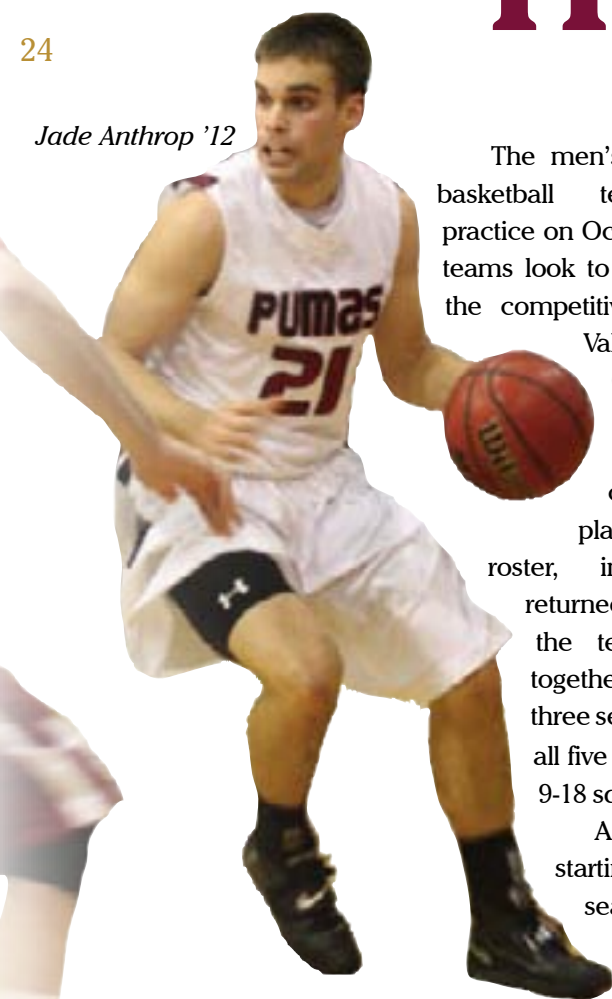

Most of the meals featured live music performed by professors and students, and Pam Brown-Seely ’98, the College’s Library and Archives Manager, gave a presentation at every meal on SJC’s history of food self-sufficiency.

With the success of the inaugural Harvest Fest, everyone involved is looking forward to taking the project to the next step; it promises to be just as delicious, entertaining, and educational.

Basketball Season HIGHLIGHTS

Jade Anthrop '12

The men's and women's basketball teams opened practice on October 15 as both teams look to make waves in the competitive Great Lakes Valley Conference (GLVC).

The women's team opened camp with 21 players on the roster, including eight returnees. The core of the team has been together for the past three seasons, including all five starters from the 9-18 squad of 2010-11.

A mainstay in the starting line-up a season ago, senior Britney Cruse returns as the Pumas' leading scorer. Cruse averaged over 15 points per game while collecting a team-best 64 steals. One of the best free throw shooters in the GLVC, Cruse took 159 foul shots last season, converting at an 80% clip.

Senior Tatiana Ortiz averaged nearly 15 points a game last season while pulling in more than four rebounds a game. Ortiz and Cruse were the main ball handlers as they combined for 123 assists in 2010-11. The duo also averaged over 30 minutes a game last year, but with a deeper roster, they will have more time to rest.

With tune-up games against Ball State, Valparaiso, and Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI), the Pumas were tested early in preparation for a much tougher non-conference schedule. SJC opened the season at Richard F. Scharf Alumni Fieldhouse against perennially top-tiered team Grand Valley State University on November 13, followed by two tournaments hosted by Quincy and Ashland.

The Pumas will be taking on Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (GLIAC) foes Wayne State University and Ferris State University in December to round out their non-conference opponents. SJC will open GLVC play on December 1 when it hosts Northern Kentucky University. Two days later, SJC Hall of Famer Dave Smith '86 and Bellarmine University will visit Rensselaer for another battle. The Pumas picked up an 88-79 victory over the Knights last season, the first time head coach Brandon Turner defeated BU in his tenure.

The men's team suffered through injuries last season as it qualified for the GLVC Tournament for the fifth time in head coach Richard Davis' tenure. Davis begins his sixth season at the helm of the Pumas and eighth with the program. He returns three starters from last year's squad along with healthier upperclassmen that were a part of the Pumas' run to the Elite Eight in 2009-10.

SJC welcomes the healthy return of senior Phillip Collins, who became the NCAA Midwest Regionals Most Outstanding Player in 2010, but saw action in only 17 games last season, averaging less than 10 points a contest. Also back in action is junior Dayvon Sloan, who played in 17 games and averaged 11 points per game.

Back for their senior campaigns are Cory Hrynyk '12, Jake Hassler '12, and Jade Anthrop '12. The trio was a strong presence in the NCAA Tournament two years ago and will bring a wealth of experience to the team. Anthrop played in 25 games last season as an added ball handler while the Pumas went without Sloan. Hassler will continue to be a post presence, and Hrynyk is a tough defensive match-up with his ability to play different positions.

Always a strong defensive team, SJC allowed less than 70 points per game last season. With a healthy line-up, the Pumas look to regain momentum in the GLVC. SJC opened the 2011-12 campaign at home on November 16 against Hillsdale College.

The Pumas will continue their non-conference tour of GLIAC opponents at the Indianapolis Classic on November 25 and 26. SJC will play Northern Michigan University and Lake Superior State University at the tournament. The Pumas will make trips to Michigan Tech and Central State in December, but their toughest non-conference challenge will come from IUPUI on December 8.

The GLVC will go back to a more traditional scheduling set-up this season, as there will be just an East and West Division. With defending national champions and GLVC foe Bellarmine University slated for two games this season, the Pumas look to be in mid-season form for the opening GLVC weekend. SJC will host the Knights on December 3 and will continue the divisional series on February 9 in Louisville.

FACULTY Notes

WAYNE CUNNINGHAM, Ph.D., Professor of Business; Cheryl Wistrom, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Chemistry; & Chau Wong, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Psychology attended the Learning House Connect 2011 Conference July 26-27 at the Seelbach Hilton Hotel in Louisville, Kentucky.

DAVID E. DIXON, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Political Science, wrote biographies, interviewed civil rights era ministers/surviving families and received families' permission to publish sermons this past May—August. In July, he did archival research: in the American Jewish Archives of the Hebrew Union Seminary in Ohio, finding unpublished sermons by Rabbis Murray Blackman and Maurice Davis; at the Methodist Theological Seminary in Ohio; and at the Presbyterian Historical Society in Pennsylvania, finding an unpublished sermon by Colin W. Williams. Dixon gave an address on women in the civil rights movement to students, faculty and staff at Florida Southern College and Polk State University in Lakeland, Florida on July 7. He assembled the master Google Docs database for all production phases of manuscript for volume two of Rhetoric, Religion, and the Civil Rights Movement with co-editor Davis Houck in Tallahassee, Florida, July 8-10. He attended the Sociology of Religion board of editors' meeting at the Association for the Sociology of Religion (and American Sociological Association) annual meeting in Las Vegas, Nevada on July 19. He was appointed Associate Editor of the journal Sociology of Religion in July.

KAREN DONNELLY, Ph.D., Professor of Mathematics, won the Curtis Creek Country Club Ladies' Golf Championship—this is her 19th time winning this title. She is also, for the second year, serving as volunteer assistant coach to the Rensselaer Central High School girl's golf team.

ANNE GULL, Ph.D., Professor of Chemistry, attended the Indiana State Science Olympiad meeting on June 4 and the Paramedic Governance Board meeting at St. Elizabeth School of Nursing on July 27. She was a judge for the St. Augustine School Science Fair on May 20 and presented to St. Augustine School's third grade class about chemistry and career as a faculty member on May 4.

NEAL HASKELL, Ph.D., Professor of Biology, was interviewed by 89.1 Lakeshore Public Radio; the interview aired on August 11. Haskell is also featured in a commercial produced by WLFI TV-Lafayette in Indiana and in a 15-second spot on wlfi.com (www.youtube.com/user/saintjoe1889).

JOHN KENNEDY, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Economics, was interviewed about fuel prices by 89.1 Lakeshore Public Radio; the interview aired on September 28.

REV. JEFFREY KIRCH, C.P.P.S. '98, Assistant Professor of Religion, made a presentation to the University of St. Francis (Joliet, Ill.) faculty assembly on the Mission of Catholic higher education on August 15. He also made a presentation on ministry and mission for the pastoral care staff of Little Company of Mary Hospital (Evergreen Park, Ill.) on August 31.

MARGE MCILWAIN, Assistant Professor of Mathematics, and Dr. Karen Donnelly received a grant of $10,000 from Vernier Software & Technology, a company serving STEM education for 30 years with interfaces, sensors, software, and curriculum that help engage students through hands-on scientific exploration. There were 2,000 applications in total, and SJC was 1 of 30 grantees. McIlwain and Donnelly will be directing the execution of the grant, which will help achieve this aim: “enhance quantitative literacy through student-developed interactive projects.” For more information: www.vernier.com/30-years.

JOHN NICHOLS, Ph.D., Professor of Philosophy and NEH Distinguished Professor, has been commissioned by the Association for General and Liberal Studies to direct a project with a nationwide (Vermont, North Dakota, Oregon, Texas, Florida, Indiana) group of 10 colleges/universities on “classy” methods for assessing liberal learning at the highest levels of undergraduate degrees. Also, Nichols has procured $20,000 from the Lumina Foundation to cover expenses of the meetings.

MICHAEL NICHOLS, Ph.D., William E. Johnston, Jr. Assistant Professor of Religious Studies, published a book review of “Against a Hindu God: Buddhist

Michael Nichols

Philosophy of Religion in India” by Parimal Patil in Journal of Buddhist Ethics, 18 (2011): 152-157. He wrote an article, “ ‘I Think You and I Are Destined to Do This Forever’: A Reading of the Batman/Joker Story Cycle through the Combat Myth,” in The Journal of

FR. GILBERT’S 50TH ANNIVERSARY ~ After celebrating the 50th anniversary of his ordination in 2010, Fr. Philip Gilbert, C.P.P.S. ’52 is now celebrating his 50th year of teaching at Saint Joseph’s College. Fr. Gilbert earned his Bachelor of Science in Mathematics from Saint Joseph’s College and his Master of Mathematics from the University of Illinois. He was ordained May 28, 1960 by Bishop Paul Leibold at Immaculate Conception Parish in Celina, Ohio. At that time, the Math faculty at SJC consisted entirely of C.P.P.S. priests and one brother. The department chair, Fr. Marcellus Dreiling, made a request of the Provincial to have Fr. Gilbert assigned to SJC’s Mathematics Department. Fr. Gilbert has been teaching at SJC since 1961 and has loved every minute of it.

“I have never regretted being assigned here,” said Fr. Gilbert. “When I first came to the College, I thought it was an outstanding environment for study, and I was here with some great guys. The SJC seminarians were great friends and role models.”

Joint Symposium to be held at Siem Riep, Cambodia, January 2-4, 2012.

KAREN VENDITTI, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Education, is currently working on a project through the Early Childhood Leadership Institute of the University of the District of Columbia. Between June 19 and June 30, Venditti, along with two public school colleagues, offered workshops in an Early Childhood Reading Academy, which was conducted in Washington, DC. Venditti and colleagues presented to approximately 100 preschool educators and administrators on the use of research-based reading instruction to maximize student achievement. They have been requested to follow up with select teachers through on-site observations to provide feedback on the implementation of these methods in order to develop exemplars for use in future training sessions. Also, Venditti presented three workshops to teachers and administrators of Geminus/Headstart of Lake County in May and August. These workshops were titled: "Scaffolding Early Readers for Optimal Comprehension"; "Vocabulary Extension in the Early Childhood Setting: You Get What You Give"; and "Response to Instruction—The Impact on Early Childhood Educators." She presented "What's New in Children's Literature" to the Kankakee Valley Reading Council on Zier's charcoal drawing, "Fixing Time," at Prophetstown, Ind.

September 27. Venditti also won two awards from the Association of Teacher Educators - Indiana (ATE-I): the Duaine Lang Research Award, which is a $500 mini-grant for proposed research that Dr. Jennifer Barce and Venditti are developing; and the Curtis Osburn Distinguished Service Award, given to one member annually who has contributed a great deal to ATE-I.

DANA ZIER, Instructor, is one of four resident artists chosen to represent historic Prophetstown near Battleground, Ind., for the year 2011-12. She was chosen as one of 10 Indiana Artists in 2011 to represent, paint, and benefit the "Naturally Inspired" event for the Indianapolis Zoo. Zier's oil paintings and Rena Brouwer's renowned watercolors of Carroll County Indiana were in a show October 1-30 at the Opera House Gallery of Contemporary Art in Delphi, Ind. Opening reception was October 7.

BONNIE ZIMMER, Associate Professor of Art and Assistant Professor of Education, showed her artwork at an exhibition entitled "In Harmony with Nature" on September 16. The exhibition was presented by the Prairie Arts Council in

SAINT JOSEPH'S COLLEGE PROFESSOR NAMED A FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR

~ Saint Joseph's College Associate Professor of History Dr. Ilicia Sprey has been selected for a Fulbright Award to Vietnam. She plans on arriving in Vietnam in January 2012. Sprey earned her Bachelor of Science in History from the University of Vermont and her Master of History and doctoral degree in History from the University of Virginia.

Sprey's host institution will be Hong Duc University, where she spent a week in 2002 as part of another grant, in Thanh Hoa City, Thanh Hoa Province. Hong Duc was founded in 1997 as the first university post-war of independence to offer degrees in more than one area of study.

"I am thrilled by the professional and personal opportunity the Fulbright Award offers to me and to Saint Joseph's College," said Sprey. It provides me with the ability to live, work, and teach within another culture; continue to work on my Vietnamese language skills; and learn from my students and colleagues overseas."

The Fulbright Program is the flagship international educational exchange program sponsored by the U.S. government. It is designed to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and the people of other countries. The Fulbright Program provides participants—chosen for their academic merit and leadership potential—with the opportunity to study, teach and conduct research, exchange ideas, and contribute to finding solutions to shared international concerns.

"While I am proud of being awarded the Fulbright, SJC faculty as a whole has a long tradition of being actively engaged in research and making significant contributions to their various fields of study and continue to participate in local, regional, national, and international conferences and other academic collaborative endeavors," said Sprey.

The J. William Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board that selected Dr. Sprey is appointed by the President of the United States and is responsible for establishing worldwide policies for the Fulbright Program with funding provided by the U.S. Congress, the private sector, and partner countries. Since the inception of the Fulbright Program more than 60 years ago, there have been 43 Nobel Prizes and much recognition for outstanding contributions around the world with the purpose, as stated by Anita McBride, the Fulbright Chair, to "increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and the people of the more than 150 countries that currently participate in the Fulbright Program."

"To be named a Fulbright Scholar is an honor for Dr. Sprey and Saint Joseph's College," said Vice President for Academic Affairs Dr. Daniel Blankenship. "We are proud of her accomplishment and wish Dr. Sprey well in the final steps of her preparation as a Fulbright Scholar."

THE TALE OF THE 39-YEAR-OLD SJC CLASS RING CAPER

In Evanston, Illinois, around 1972, Denny Harris '69 lost his SJC class ring.

Flash forward 39 years later, to July 2011. SJC Alumni and Parent Relations Director Kendra Illingworth '93 received a package with a handwritten note from a man in Portland, Oregon, who discovered the ring rolling around a Portland sidewalk two years ago. Illingworth sent the ring and the note to Harris immediately, who said, "It was a welcome sight to see after 39 years of the ring traveling the country like a wandering minstrel."

It seemed the ring must have "gone through the ringer" because it had a large, lawn-mower-like dent in it and the stone was chipped. Harris visited a jeweler to see if he could get the ring straightened out, and the jeweler said it was possible—for a $50 charge, but he could not guarantee complete satisfaction. He recommended going back to Jostens in Minnesota. They often repair their rings as part of their warranty service for less than $100. So Harris sent the ring to Jostens, and they said it was too damaged to repair. However, they were able to recast it for about $69 because they have the SJC mold, so that Harris was able to get a totally new ring, which he received on September 12. How does it look? Harris exclaims, "Beautiful—just like new! Well, of course...because it is new. They probably melted down my old ring." Harris emailed the man who found the ring and thanked him profusely. Harris also thanked Illingworth for all of her "Sherlock Holmesian efforts—now the cycle is complete."

GALLAGHER & FRIENDS REUNION ~ Did you attend SJC between 1975 and 1983? If so, you may be interested in a "nontraditional reunion" happening on campus Saturday, July 21 and Sunday, July 22, 2012.

A small group of us who graduated in 1980 have been getting together for the past six years and have always made a point to visit campus for the day. It truly has been the highlight of our trip. The problem is that the stories we tell are about a lot of you out there, and this year we want to extend the invitation to as many Pumas as we can. For 30 years we've had great friendships, and it's time to renew more of them!

This reunion is nontraditional in the sense that it's not focused on a single graduating year, but rather a period of years. Also, we'll stay on campus in Halas and Gallagher (or a local hotel at special rate), and spend Saturday afternoon at Lake Banet, enjoying a catered meal. Chances are good that many Wagonmasters and beverages will be consumed at night. If you can only make it for the Lake Banet get-together, that's great too.

If you are interested, or want more information, contact Matt Heaney at matthstl@yahoo.com, or visit alumni.saintjoe.edu/Gallagher. We are looking forward to seeing old friends and digging up some of the great times from the past. Grab your group and meet us next year.

HONOR ROLL of DONORS

In the pages that follow, you will find the 2011 Honor Roll of Donors listing the College's supporters from July 1, 2010 through June 30, 2011. We are grateful for the generous support of our alumni, parents, and friends who give so generously in support of the College.

The theme for the 2011-2012 academic year is taken from Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians: Be of one mind, united in thought and purpose. The College was, once again, named among the best colleges in the Midwest, as well as a Top 10 "Best Value" Midwestern College by US News & World Report. These continued national accolades are a testament to the tremendous work that takes place both at Saint Joseph's College and where you live, work, and serve. Together, we, the constituents of Saint Joseph's College, are connected to this year's theme in all that we do, say, and think in our daily lives as we model the College's mission. May you continue to keep the College, the mission, and this year's theme close to your heart and mind.

Thank you to the many contributors who joined in our fundraising efforts this year. If, by our error, your name did not get listed—we offer our apologies and ask that you contact us at 800.227.1898 or email collegefund@saintjoe.edu.

ENDOWMENT AND OTHER PERMANENTLY RESTRICTED ASSETS AS OF JUNE 30

Share TIME, TALENT, OR TREASURE

by Ray Hall '71

One of the personal legacies passed down from Saint Joseph's College to its alumni is that alumni are part of the SJC community for life. Unfortunately, many alumni disassociate themselves from their alma mater due to their belief that they do not have the means of supporting their College in a manner commensurate with what the College has provided them. Truly believing that alumni are family members for life, SJC affords those of us who do not have the monetary means to support the College (but do have the time) to support the College in a variety of different ways. Several ways of providing support would be by volunteering to be a "Puma Mover" in August. These "movers" are always needed, and being a Puma parent, we found it extremely helpful in making the transitional move. It's rewarding and allows for the casual interaction between yourself and incoming freshmen. You can also support Saint Joseph's College by simply making purchases at the College Store.

Another approach to support the College is through regional receptions. Regional receptions are the lifeline for sustaining the viability of any college. These receptions are particularly important for small colleges that do not always have the advantage of built-in marketing on a large scale. These gatherings help link the past to the present. This linkage is important in allowing alumni, parents, and friends to discuss and evaluate the anecdotal success of the College with regards to establishing baselines to see how the College has improved over time and to discuss the direction that the College may be taking.

With input from alumni, representing various years at the College, a great deal of information is available. These receptions can be used to develop business networks that can in turn be used to identify job leads and potential positions for Saint Joseph's College students preparing to enter into the job market.

Armed with information regarding the College, you are now prepared to approach high school students with the intent of recruiting them to attend SJC. Recruiting materials are readily available through the College's Admissions Office. You will find that high school guidance counselors are more than willing to work with you in meeting with students from their respective schools. If you are tentative in meeting with students in that particular venue, you may find it easier to approach high school students in CCD programs at your

THE BELOIT COLLEGE MIND-SET LIST ON THE CLASS OF 2015 ~

Beloit has been publishing the annual mindset list since 1998 to help educators understand the cultural touchstones that have shaped the worldviews of each successive year of college freshmen. Born in 1993, the Class of 2015 arrived on the scene the year Mosaic was introduced as the first widely used web browser and the year Time magazine declared, "Suddenly the Internet is the place to be." The full list can be found at www.beloit.edu/mindset. Here are some selections:

1. There has always been an Internet ramp onto the information highway.
2. Ferris Bueller and Sloane Peterson could be their parents.
6. They "swipe" cards, not merchandise.
7. As the students have grown up on websites and cellphones, adult experts have constantly fretted about their alleged deficits of empathy and concentration.
8. Their schools' "blackboards" have always been getting smarter.
9. "Don't touch that dial!"... What dial?
10. American tax forms have always been available in Spanish.
12. Amazon has never been just a river in South America.
13. Refer to LBJ, and they might assume you're talking about LeBron James.
16. Women have never been too old to have children.
19. We have never asked, and they have never had to tell.
23. There has never been an official Communist Party in Russia.
25. Video games have always had ratings.
28. Jimmy Carter has always been a smiling elderly man who shows up on TV to promote fair elections and disaster relief.
29. Arnold Palmer has always been a drink.
30. Dial-up is sooooooooooooo last century!
31. Women have always been kissing women on television.
32. Their older siblings have told them about the days when Britney Spears, Justin Timberlake, and Christina Aguilera were Mouseketeers.
37. Music has always been available via free downloads.
52. Their parents have always been able to create a will and other legal documents online.
57. They've broken up with significant others via texting, Facebook, or MySpace.
62. Nurses have always been in short supply.
63. They won't go near a retailer that lacks a website.
64. Altar girls have never been a big deal.
74. "PC" has come to mean personal computer, not political correctness.

RENOVATE THE FOUNTAIN

Homecoming 2011 marked the 50th reunion of the Class of 1961. In June of 2000, members of the Class of 1961 chose to raise funds for the Campus Gateway Complex to celebrate their 40th reunion. The campus entrance was an important first step in the vision of a unified campus image.

One hallmark of the Campus Gateway is the Fountain and Reflecting Pond—welcoming students, alumni, and guests to campus for generations. To preserve this icon, the Classes of 1960 (in 2010) and 1961 (in 2011)—in honor of their 50th reunions—adopted the restoration of the structure as an honor class gift project.

Together, these classes raised $44,973—an investment in the most important impression the campus of Saint Joseph's College can make: the first impression. Thank you—one and all.

A complete list of 1961 honor class gift supporters will appear in the next issue of Contact.

DEDICATED SJC EMPLOYEE REPAIRS THE FOUNTAIN

Starting in May, Jim Thomas of the SJC Carpenter Shop braved the summer 2011 heat five days a week, coming in at 5:00 a.m. and working 10-hour days (and some Saturdays) to repair the fountain. When asked about the work, Thomas said, "All of the fountain had to be redone because it was so deteriorated; it had been in need of repair for seven to eight years. We had to rebuild the base underneath and put concrete in. To make it interesting, we mixed old rocks and new rocks. We started with face rock and then used finish rock. Filling and testing had to be done before school started." Thomas is from Rensselaer, starting at SJC in March 1985. He was honored for his

25 years of service at the Employee Service Recognition Breakfast on March 3, 2011.
